Many of you already have plans to travel during these Christmas days. During this season, the joy of sharing with family and friends is a characteristic, many of our childhood memories are filled with these days. For us Catholics, these days have more meaning than just being with family. They are the days that we celebrate the birth of the Son of God, the coming of him in our history.

This Sunday the liturgy offers us two great characters who teach us how to prepare for the arrival of Jesus in our lives. They are Saint Elizabeth and the Blessed Virgin Mary, two related women, very different from each other, but together in God's plan. Saint Elizabeth, an older woman, was married to the priest Zechariah. They had not been able to conceive a child, but God granted them after a long wait the capability to conceive a child: John the Baptist. The second woman, Mary, was a young woman and was betrothed to Joseph. They could conceive naturally, but in this case, divine intervention overcame the natural condition. That was how the action of the Holy Spirit became present and Mary conceived the Son of the Most High.

These two women met and by exchanging their greetings it was revealed to us what God was doing in them. Their wombs announced hope because their children were coming with a mission, John's mission to prepare the way of the Lord, and Jesus's mission to bring salvation for all mankind. The two women of our Gospel open our hearts to the attitude with which we must live these last days of Advent, to live as believers joyful in the presence of God. Let us greet Mary with the greeting of Elizabeth, saying to her "blessed are you who believed," but also let us see in these words our presence in the world. We are blessed because we believe in the promises of God.

- Fr. Fabián
