A letter from your Holy Family Priest | Calling us deeper in our faith

I am so excited at the many different small groups that we offer here at Holy Family. I love small groups because it called me deeper into my faith. I joined my first small group my freshman year at UW-Madison. My small group leader (now Fr. Nick Baumgardner) walked through the importance of Sacred Scripture and how it applied to our lives. It opened my eyes to what God has done for me in my life and what He can do if I place Him at the center of my life.

Jesus formed the first small group with his Apostles to learn about the faith. Following in Christ's path, small groups are one of the best ways to grow deeper in the faith with fellow parishioners at your side. Together in Christ, we learn more about our faith, laugh with each other, lament at a hardship, and learn to love our neighbor more deeply.

Like the first apostles did with Jesus, take a leap of faith. Come and see what the Lord wants to do in your life through small groups!

Small Group/Bible Studies are still accepting new participants! Go to our homepage, hffdl.org, and find the sign-up tab to enroll today. Most of the groups start soon in early September.

God Bless,
Fr. Matthew Kirk
